Frontend Developer

SUMMARY

As a Frontend Web Developer, I've built and maintained responsive websites that not only look great but work seamlessly. One of my recent projects involved managing a client's live site, reducing manual updates by over 8 hours monthly. I enjoy turning rough ideas into polished user experiences that make both clients and users feel at home online.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Scrumconsult., Lagos, Nigeria

March 2025 – Present

Website & Program Assistant

- I managed the organization's website by updating pages, events, and blog content weekly, improving user experience and reducing outdated info by 100%.
- Uploaded media, forms, and promotional materials to the site consistently, streamlining parent access to resources and reducing support inquiries by 25%.
- Taught web development basics to over 30 kids (ages 9–14) during a summer tech bootcamp, helping them build their first working HTML/CSS projects.
- Guided hands-on learning sessions and provided one-on-one support, leading to a 95% completion rate and positive feedback from both students and parents.
